The Leaders of Choice for Critical and Complex Projects

- For more than two decades, Seven Consulting has delivered some of Australia's most critical transformation programs. Now, as part of Sia, we pair that delivery depth with global reach, strategy and AI. Our 7th Delivery Summit brings clients and leaders together to share what works.
- Seven Consulting manages billions of dollars of transformation programs, from <$1m to >$500m, and earned a 99.25% customer satisfaction rating in 2025.
- Hear from the leaders delivering Australia's most critical programs, then continue the conversation over networking drinks. Meet the speakers below.

Seven Consulting Origin and Values

Seven Consulting is one of Australia's most respected project management firms. Our clients entrust us to deliver their most critical IT and business transformation programs, ranging in value from <$1m to >$500m.

Seven Consulting was started in 2002 as a program management consultancy comprised of leading program and project management professionals, focused on exceeding client expectations. We have grown into one of Australia's most respected project / program management firms, with our clients trusting us to deliver their most critical IT and business transformation programs, ranging in value from less than $1m to over $500m in budget.

This vision has been achieved through a rigorous hiring process that ensures all Seven consultants have proven skills and a demonstrated track record in delivering complex, mission-critical IT and business transformation programs. It is further supported by the company's core values of Teamwork, Transparency and Delivery.

Teamwork is embodied in Seven Consulting's 'One Team' approach that recognises success can only be achieved together. This is achieved by creating a single project team across the client and vendors that is supportive, collaborative, and united to deliver a common set of objectives.

Transparency applies in all dealings with the client, project teams, and stakeholders – both internal and external. We share information openly and honestly, formally and informally, addressing issues objectively.

Delivery is achieved by ensuring that project objectives of Scope, Cost, Schedule, and Quality are clearly understood, prioritised and delivered by a team of leading project management professionals, experienced in both Agile and Traditional delivery approaches. This ensures that business benefits are realised to the client's satisfaction.

Why Work With Us?

- To ensure that we meet or exceed our clients' needs, we only hire and retain the top 10% of delivery professionals.
- Successful project delivery. Our proven track record and extensive reference list includes some of the largest and most successful IT and organisational change projects in Australia.
- Our consultants' internal reviews are linked to client satisfaction.
- Seven Consulting's passion is a game changer for our clients, making their most complex and important projects a success.
- We want to be different and we are different.

Seven Consulting is now Sia

In August 2026, Seven Consulting joined Sia, a global AI, management and strategy consulting firm.

3,000 CONSULTANTS | 20 COUNTRIES | FOUNDED IN 1999

Sia in Australia: Scaling AI-Powered Consulting

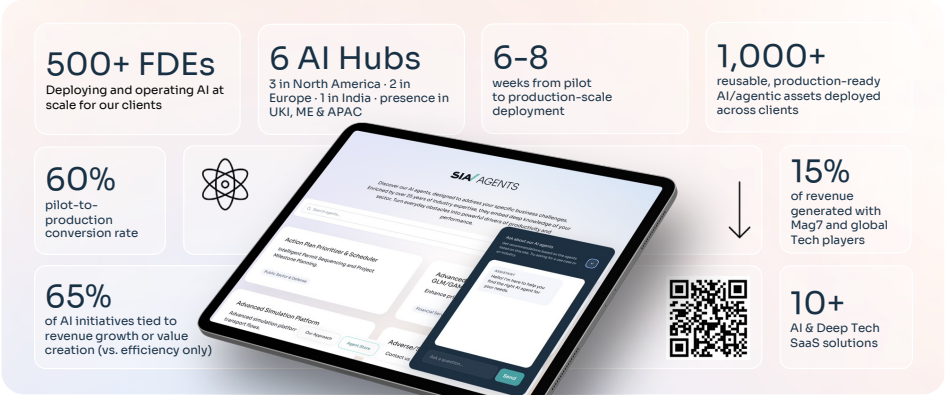

Sia is rooted in strategy and management consulting, with recognised strength in Energy, Banking, Government, Transportation, and Consumer Goods & Retail. We serve over 1,000 clients, including a vast majority of the Fortune 500 and most of the Magnificent Seven.

Three core capabilities amplify this foundation: Data & AI, Creative & Marketing Experience, and Cybersecurity & Resilience.

In Australia, Sia's presence is growing. A team in Perth already serves key clients across Energy, Mining and Industrial sectors. With the addition of Seven Consulting's teams in Sydney, Melbourne and Manila, our Australian footprint will reach close to 130 consultants, with flagship offices in Sydney and Melbourne alongside our existing base in Perth.

Sia Applied Intelligence Platform: From resilient AI design to scaled production and value creation

As an AI-first consulting firm, Sia turns AI into measurable business value. From resilient AI architecture to agentic solutions running in production, Sia's teams help organisations deploy data and AI at scale and adapt swiftly to changing market demands.

Sia combines end-to-end AI expertise with strategic alliances with eight technology partners: Anthropic, AWS, Azure, Databricks, ElevenLabs, GCP, NVIDIA, and OpenAI. These alliances give clients roadmap access and independent advice informed by deep technical knowledge of all major platforms.
